Kessler Creative

2022–Present

Manage variable data direct mail projects from data processing through final production, using FusionPro to create personalized print pieces while preparing imposed, USPS-compliant files, with Intelligent Mail Barcodes, postal indicia, addressing, and clear zones.

Design and prepare artwork for wide-format applications, including banners, posters, signage, installations and promotional displays.

Review and correct client-supplied files for layout, typography, color, bleeds, resolution and print readiness. Generate proofs, perform preflight inspections, and conduct quality assurance checks to ensure accuracy prior to production.

Collaborate with account managers, production staff, and clients to resolve artwork issues and maintain project timelines, and deliver high-quality finished products.

Oversee multiple prepress and production projects simultaneously, maintaining organized files, resolving artwork and production issues, and ensuring on-time delivery in a high-volume environment.
